- (b) Provide a brief summary of the corporate governance policy that the board of directors has adopted. Please emphasize the policy/ies relative to the treatment of all shareholders, respect for the rights of minority shareholders and of other stakeholders, disclosure duties, and board responsibilities.

The Board of Directors of San Miguel Pure Foods Company, Inc. (SMPFC or the “Company”) approved and adopted a Manual on Corporate Governance for the Company (the “Manual”). The Manual was amended by the Board on August 12, 2011 in compliance with the Revised Code of Corporate Governance issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) under its Memorandum Circular No. 6, Series of 2009. The Manual was again amended by the Board on March 26, 2014 to conform to recent SEC Memorandum Circulars issued, particularly SEC Memorandum Circular No. 1, series of 2014, SEC Memorandum Circular No. 20, series of 2013, and SEC Memorandum Circular No. 5, series of 2013.¹¹ Upon approval by the Commission of amendments to the Revised Code of Corporate Governance by virtue of SEC Memorandum Circular No. 9, series of 2014, the Board approved further amendments to the Company’s Manual during its meeting on June 25, 2014.¹² The Company recognizes that good governance helps the business to deliver strategy, generate and sustain shareholder value and safeguard shareholders’ rights and interests. Thus, the Board of Directors, management and employees commit themselves to the corporate governance principles and best practices contained in the Manual, and acknowledge that the same shall guide the attainment of their corporate goals.

As a necessary component of what constitutes sound strategic business management, every effort necessary to create awareness of the Manual within the organization is undertaken. To ensure adherence to the Manual, the Board of Directors has appointed a Compliance Officer, who has direct reporting responsibilities to the Chairman of the Board.

The Board is primarily responsible for promoting the Company’s long-term growth and success and determining its mission, strategy and objectives. The Board exercises oversight responsibilities on the business and affairs of the Company, reviews and approves the Company’s financial statements, and ensures the presence of adequate and effective internal control mechanisms in the Company to manage business risk.

Minority shareholders are granted the right to propose the holding of shareholder meetings and the right to propose items in the agenda of the meeting, provided the items are for legitimate business purposes, and in accordance with law, jurisprudence and best practices.

Each common share in the name of the shareholder entitles such shareholder to one vote that may be exercised in person or by proxy at the shareholder meetings. Common shareholders, even minority shareholders, have the right to nominate, elect, remove, and replace directors, as well as vote on certain corporate acts. However, a director shall not be removed without cause if it will deny minority shareholders representation in the Board.

Both preferred and common shareholders have the right to vote on matters involving certain corporate acts in accordance with the Corporation Code: amendment of articles of incorporation (including the increase in the authorized capital stock of the Company); adoption and amendment of by-laws; sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the corporate property; incurring, creating or increasing bonded indebtedness; increase or decrease of capital stock; merger or consolidation with another corporation; investment of corporate funds in another corporation or business; and dissolution.

¹¹ Update per SEC Form 17-C filed with the SEC on March 27, 2014.

¹² Update per SEC Form 17-C filed with the SEC on June 25, 2014.

For the further protection of the rights of minority shareholders, any stockholder dissenting from and voting against the following corporate actions may demand payment of the fair value of their shares as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken for such corporate action: amendment to the Company's articles of incorporation and by-laws that has the effect of changing and restricting the rights of any shareholder or class of shares or authorizing preferences in any respect superior to those of outstanding shares of any class; sale, lease, mortgage or other disposition of all or substantially all of the corporation's assets; merger or consolidation; investment of corporate funds in another corporation or business or for any purpose other than its primary purpose; and extension or shortening of term of corporate existence. The stockholders' right of appraisal may be exercised for a period within 30 days from the date on which the vote on the corporate action was taken.

SMPFC exercises transparency when dealing with shareholders, customers, employees, creditors, suppliers and other trade partners. SMPFC ensures that these transactions adhere to fair business practices in order to establish long-term and mutually beneficial relationships. In this connection, the Company has adopted a Code of Ethics for observance by employees and business partners, and policies on Conflict of Interest, Whistleblowing, and Solicitation and Acceptance of Gifts, among others.

In addition, activities are regularly conducted to address the needs and interests of the Company's shareholders and other stakeholders, including its employees, customers, suppliers/contractors, creditors /financiers, government and the communities in which the Company belongs.¹³

Pursuant to the Manual, all material information on the Company, i.e., anything that could potentially affect share price or its viability or the interest of its stockholders and other stakeholders, such as its financial performance and position, acquisition or disposal of substantial assets, Board changes, related party transactions, shareholdings of directors and changes to ownership, are publicly and timely disclosed. With respect to the latter, such dealings in company shares by directors shall be reported within three business days or such other period prescribed under applicable regulations. Further thereto, the Board shall cause the filing of all required information through the appropriate Exchange mechanisms for listed companies and submissions to the Commission for the interest of its stockholders and other stakeholders. Accurate, timely, and complete updates of relevant events concerning SMPFC and its business units are also available through the Company's corporate website (www.sanmiguelpurefoods.com). Among these regular updates are the businesses, products and service offerings of the Company, financial performance, business opportunities, corporate vision, mission and objectives. The website also provides downloadable copies of the Company's Articles of Incorporation, By-laws, Manual, Board Committee Charters, Annual Reports, Notice and Information Statements for Annual Shareholders' Meetings, and other relevant governance policies, rules and regulations.^{14 15}

Provide the company's definition of "independence" and describe the company's compliance to the definition.

The Company defines an Independent Director in its By-laws as a person other than an officer or employee of the corporation, its parent or subsidiaries, or any other individual having a relationship with the corporation, which would interfere with the exercise of independent judgment in carrying out the responsibilities of a director. Accordingly, the Company's Manual provides that an Independent Director is a director who, apart from his/her fees and shareholdings, has no business or relationship with the Company, which could, or could reasonably be perceived to, materially interfere with the exercise of his/her independent judgment in carrying out his/her responsibilities as a director. Among others, Independent Directors have the power and authority to review related party transactions entered into by the Company at any time.

The Company has more than the required number of Independent Directors under SEC regulations. The Independent Directors of the Company elected during the 2016 Annual Stockholders' Meeting, Mr. Carmelo Santiago, Mr. Silvestre Bello III³⁴, Justice Edgardo Cruz and Justice Minita Chico-Nazario, have no business or other relationship with the Company that may interfere with the exercise of their judgment in carrying out their responsibilities as Independent Directors. They were qualified for election in accordance with the Securities Regulation Code and rules of the SEC.³⁵

Accordingly, effective 2012, an Independent Director may serve as such for five consecutive years only starting January 2, 2012, after which a "cooling off" period of two years shall be observed before he/she may be considered for re-election as Independent Director of the Company. However, if there is no suitable replacement, an Independent Director elected in 2012 who may be re-elected as such until 2017, upon which the two-year cooling off period shall commence, may further be re-elected until 2021 only (a maximum term of nine years), at which time he/she may no longer be qualified as Independent Director of the Company.³⁶ Further, in business conglomerates such as the San Miguel Group of Companies of which SMPFC is a part, an Independent Director may be elected to only five corporations of the conglomerate. Pursuant to such rules, each Independent Director of the Company issues and submits to the Corporate Secretary for filing with the SEC, a certification confirming that he/she possesses all the qualifications and none of the disqualifications of an Independent Director at the time of his/her election and/or re-election. All the Independent Directors of the Company are independent of its management and substantial shareholders.

Does the company have a term limit of five consecutive years for independent directors? If after two years, the company wishes to bring back an independent director who had served for five years, does it limit the term for no more than four additional years? Please explain.

Yes. The Company complies with applicable laws and regulations, including SEC Memorandum Circular No. 9, Series of 2011 and SEC Advisories issued on July 20, 2015 and March 31, 2016. Under the said memorandum circular, effective January 2012, an independent director may only serve as such for five consecutive years starting January 2, 2012, shall be ineligible for re-election for a "cooling off" period of two years thereafter, following which he may again serve for another five consecutive years.³⁷ Under the July 2015 Advisory, independent directors elected in 2012 may be re-elected as such for five years, or until 2017, when the two-year cooling off period shall commence. However, in accordance with the March 2016 Advisory, if there are no suitable replacements, said independent directors may be re-elected in 2017 for four more years or until 2021 only (a maximum term of nine years), at which time they may no longer be qualified as independent directors for the same companies. This re-election in 2017 until 2021 shall be with prior written notice and justification to the SEC addressed to the Corporate Governance and Finance Department.³⁸

The primary objectives of internal control are to ensure: (i) reliability and integrity of financial and operational information; (ii) effectiveness and efficiency of operation; (iii) safeguarding of assets; (iv) compliance with policies, plans, procedures, laws, regulations and contracts; and (v) accomplishment of established objectives and goals for operations or programs.

Pursuant to the internal control responsibilities of the Board as provided in SMPFC's Manual, the Board has exercised during the previous year the following oversight responsibilities for ensuring the presence of adequate and effective internal control mechanisms:

- Established organizational and operational controls commensurate with, among others, the nature and complexity of the business of the Company and its culture, volume, size and complexity of transactions; degree of risks involved, degree of centralization and delegation of authority; extent and effectiveness of information technology; and extent of regulatory compliance;
- Ensure that an independent audit mechanism is in place to monitor the adequacy and effectiveness of the Company's governance, operations and information systems, including the reliability and integrity of financial and operational information, the effectiveness and efficiency of operations, the safeguarding of assets, and compliance with laws, rules, regulations and contracts.

SMPFU was built a home, with six training rooms that can accommodate a maximum of 25 participants per room. To date, since the launch of SMPFU in 2010, SMPFC has invested over P100 million in people development, including P5 million in the construction and renovation of the University building – a concrete manifestation of management’s commitment to developing a culture of learning and excellence.

The Leadership and Management School was designed to develop and implement programs that will hone the leadership and management skills of executives, middle managers, supervisors, as well as high potential/high flyer rank-and-file employees.

Its flagship program, the Management Development Program (MDP), aims to give students a fresh perspective and a first-hand account of current and future trends in the industry and in the Company, which with in-depth analysis encourages the creation of significant ideas that work. The Company has seen numerous projects launched based on ideas created and honed with the help of SMPFU.

In the MDP, key employees from the different business units of the Company are grouped together to harness cross-functional knowledge in group discussions, slicing through silos and promoting inter-business unit teamwork for four months. The program runs for 12 sessions and the students are supplied with case studies that have been specially chosen to have similarities to the structure and the vision of the Company.

As of December 31, 2015, there were 319 officers, managers and high potential employees that have completed the MDP conducted by John Clements Consultants, Inc. in partnership with Harvard Business Publishing.

Aside from the MDP, the Leadership and Management School regularly conducts courses that focus on the areas of Personal Excellence, Work Support, People Skills, Management Skills and Leadership Skills. There are 12 courses being conducted on a regular basis and are identified based on the training needs surfaced during the evaluation period of employees. These courses are the following:

- (i) Managing Employee Performance
- (ii) Coaching and Mentoring for Performance
- (iii) Influencing, Persuading & Negotiating Skills
- (iv) Administrative Investigation & Grievance Handling
- (v) Problem Solving & Decision Making
- (vi) Finance for Non-Finance
- (vii) Completed Staff Work

In 2015, there were 939 employees who completed formal classroom training under the Leadership and Management School.

The course offerings are validated with the SMPFC Executive Committee and they gave their inputs on which programs should be prioritized based on what were deemed necessary skills to improve performance of tasks and increase efficiency. The courses were designed to be applicable and appropriate cross-functionally. Training providers underwent a screening process to ensure that they understand the Company's needs and priorities. Furthermore, the courses were tailor-fit to suit the business practices of the Company and aligned with the vision and values that the Company espouses.

The Poultry and Meats Live Operations School aims to establish a uniform level of technical and operational knowledge in the different aspects of animal production for new Production Specialists. In 2013, the Live Operations School opened its introductory courses to other functional units to give the employees an appreciation and deeper understanding of Live Operations. Yearly, the School conducts four courses and these courses are: Introduction to Animal Production, Management of Hatchery Operation, Management of Growing Broilers and Management of Growing Hogs. Each course would have an estimated number of 20 participants and would have at least one batch of participants every year. The period of 2013 to 2015 saw the School graduate 230 employees from its courses.

The Feedmilling School was created to improve the knowledge and skills of the Feeds Business technical people, specifically those in manufacturing and related units. In 2014, the Feedmilling School flew in the director of the Swiss Institute of Feed Technology to conduct a course on Machines and Process Technology for the Feed Milling Industry, a Level-2 module for the School. This class graduated 46 employees from the Feeds Business and included a certification to transfer the knowledge from the module. To keep the managers from the Feeds Business up-to-date with the global standards of Feed Milling, the Company would occasionally send its key manufacturing personnel to Switzerland to undergo advance courses on Feed Milling. There were three key managers servicing Feeds Business Manufacturing who completed courses in Switzerland as of December 31, 2015. These employees are expected to transfer their knowledge by conducting trainings when they return to their plants.

The Poultry and Livestock Slaughtering School was launched in 2014. The School completed a batch of Train the Trainers Program in the same year with 20 employees who completed the course. As of December 31, 2015, the School has graduated four batches with a total number of 77 employees completing the introductory course, also named after the school, Poultry & Livestock Slaughtering (PLS 100).

The Animal Feed Science and Technology School was launched in 2015. As of December 31, 2015, the School has completed its Train the Trainers Program producing 19 graduates who will be carrying the responsibility of training the relevant employees in the coming years.

The Wheat and Flour Technology School, formerly known as the Flour Milling School, is tasked to develop the skills of San Miguel Mills technical people, specifically along wheat and flour innovations and technology. In 2014, the School began an initiative that marries the completion of the course to competency evaluations and career movement. In that same year, the School graduated 43 San Miguel Mills employees.

The Sales Academy is a product of the sales synergy initiative of the Company. The thrust of the Academy is to standardize the training courses offered to the various sales forces of the Company. Its mandate is to equip the sales teams with competencies and tools required for them to lead in the attainment of the Company's Big Hairy Audacious Goals (BHAG). Aligning the courses established common language, process and templates within the Sales groups.

The flagship program of the Sales Academy is its Qualified Sellers and Trainers Program, which is designed to measure the basics of selling and how to train the people of the Company's distributors. The Academy established that training is a line function for the sales teams. It should be embedded in the responsibilities of all sales personnel as they manage their achievements in line with the growth of the customers' business. As of December 31, 2015, the Sales Academy has certified 31 sales personnel who will carry on the responsibility of being core faculty members as they continue to cascade training with the goal of conducting the program to all internal sales personnel and to the employees of third party distributors.

The Supply Chain School is mandated to beef-up the skills of Supply Chain teams (Supply and Demand Planning, Procurement, Manufacturing and Logistics) and enable them to be at par with world-class practices in supply chain management. To date they have designed and implemented three courses that are expected to establish efficiency and foster sharing of best practices among Supply Chain practitioners of the Company. The School administered the training to 67 supply chain practitioners since it was established in 2014.

Third-Party Training Initiatives

The thrust on learning and development is not confined to fulfilling the competency gaps of the employees of the San Miguel Food Group. It also extends to the Group's business partners. The University currently houses the Monterey Meatshop School and the Kambal Pandesal Training Programs.

The Monterey Meatshop School was designed to maintain the standard of quality and service at the Company's Monterey Meatshop Outlets nationwide. In 2015, there were 105 employees from the franchisees who completed the required trainings provided by the School.

- (d) State the company's reward/compensation policy that accounts for the performance of the company beyond short-term financial measures¹²⁹

The San Miguel Group is guided by the following principles in the design of the salaries and wages of its employees:

(i) Internal Equity – A hierarchy is created where positions are valued or equated based on comparable work, responsibility and output. Jobs with more complex content and greater accountability receive commensurably higher pay. The Group uses a job evaluation system to ensure the foregoing.

(ii) External Competitiveness – The Company's pay scale is competitive with those of comparable companies in the business community. The objective is to attract external candidates and promote employee retention.

(iii) Business Affordability – Salary structures while affected by the need to be externally competitive are still anchored on the Company’s financial capability to pay in order to achieve business performance and continued operations. The Company’s ability to improve salaries and wages is largely dependent on its bottom-line. Thus each employee has a personal stake to improve the Company’s business performance.

As to its rewards policy, the Company adopts a performance management system and salary review program wherein employees are appraised annually on the basis of achievement of specific objectives and key performance indicators, i.e., financial results of the business, customer centricity, internal processes and learning and growth, and the employee’s participation in centerpiece projects and critical incidents. The Company also gives alternative forms of recognition to reward performance, which may be non-financial in nature, such as citations, awards, mentoring and professional development programs to acknowledge and further hone the skills of performers.

SMPFC further adopts the Long Term Incentive Plan (LTIP) of SMC for the San Miguel Group of Companies. The LTIP is a variable reward program that provides key executives with financial incentives that are contingent to the achievement of the SMPFC's medium to long range business goals, sustained growth, expansion, and continued financial success.

As previously discussed, SMPFC also makes available the ESPP to its employees, which is a means by which employees can purchase SMC’s shares of stock at a discount. Under the ESPP, employees are given the opportunity and an incentive to become stockholders of SMC.

- 4) What are the company’s procedures for handling complaints by employees concerning illegal (including corruption) and unethical behaviour? Explain how employees are protected from retaliation.

All concerns relating to accounting, internal accounting controls, auditing or financial reporting may be communicated to SMPFC’s Chief Finance Officer, Compliance Officer and/or General Counsel (each a “Relevant Officer”) at SMPFC’s head office. All communications received by the Relevant Officer will be kept confidential, and may be given on an anonymous basis. The Relevant Officer will distribute all communications regarding accounting, internal accounting controls, auditing or financial reporting matters to the SMPFC Audit Committee at each meeting of said Committee. Other matters shall be addressed to and be acted upon by the appropriate responsible supervisor or officer of the business units affected, in coordination with Division Human Resources,¹³⁰ in accordance with the Food Group’s conventional reporting channels.

Employees are encouraged to report concerns or questionable activities without fear of reprisal, intimidation or harassment. The Company shall not tolerate retaliation in any form against any employee who, in good faith, raises a concern or reports a possible violation under this policy. This policy, however, shall not be used for addressing or taking up personal grievances.

2. State the company policy of asking shareholders to actively participate in corporate decisions regarding:
 - a. Amendments to the company's constitution
 - b. Authorization of additional shares
 - c. Transfer of all or substantially all assets, which in effect results in the sale of the company

Each common share in the name of a shareholder entitles such shareholder to one vote that may be exercised in person or by proxy at shareholder meetings, including the ASM. Common shareholders, even minority or non-controlling shareholders, have the right to nominate, elect, remove and replace directors, as well as vote on certain corporate acts, including decisions concerning fundamental corporate changes and transactions that would significantly affect the Company.

Both common and preferred shareholders have the right to vote on matters involving certain corporate acts in accordance with the Corporation Code: amendment of articles of incorporation (including the increase in the authorized capital stock of the Company); adoption and amendment of by-laws; sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the corporate property; incurring, creating or increasing bonded indebtedness; increase or decrease of capital stock; merger or consolidation with another corporation; investment of corporate funds in another corporation or business; and dissolution.

Stockholders dissenting from and voting against the following corporate actions may demand payment of the fair value of their shares as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken for such corporate action: amendment to the Company's articles of incorporation and by-laws that has the effect of changing and restricting the rights of any shareholder or class of shares or authorizing preferences in any respect superior to those of outstanding shares of any class; sale, lease, mortgage or other disposition of all or substantially all of the corporation's assets; merger or consolidation; investment of corporate funds in another corporation or business or for any purpose other than its primary purpose; and extension or shortening of term of corporate existence. The stockholders' right of appraisal may be exercised for a period within 30 days from the date on which the vote on the corporate action was taken.

In the event additional shares out of the unissued capital stock of the Company, amounting to at least 10% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company, are to be sold via private placement, trade sale or marketed placement without conducting a rights or public offering of such shares, a majority of the minority stockholders present or represented at the stockholder meeting should approve the issuance, to comply with the listing rules of the PSE for the listing of such additional shares.

In the foregoing cases, the Company provides the rationale and explanation for each agenda item that requires shareholder approval in the Definitive Information Statement distributed at least 15 business days prior to the shareholders' meeting called for the purpose.

3. Does the company observe a minimum of 21 business days for giving out of notices to the AGM where items to be resolved by shareholders are taken up?¹⁶¹

a. Date of sending out notices:

Yes, the Company observes a minimum of 21 business days for giving out of notices to the ASM. The Company disclosed such notice to the public on March 15, 2016, which notice includes the date of the 2016 ASM to be held on May 13, 2016, the record date for stockholders entitled to vote at said meeting, the period when the stock transfer books of the Company will be closed, deadline for submission of proxies and date of validation of proxies, as well as the Agenda, time and place of the ASM.

b. Date of the Annual/Special Stockholders' Meeting:

4. State, if any, questions and answers during the Annual/Special Stockholders' Meeting.¹⁶²

The following questions were asked and answered during the ASM on May 13, 2016:

(i) What is the impact of the El Niño on your operations?

President Francisco S. Alejo III responded that the El Niño has slightly affected the Company's feeds business as it reduced availability and increased prices of some local raw materials such as copra, rice bran and corn. As such, the Company is substituting these with more expensive local and imported alternatives. Power shortages have also resulted in plant down times and higher operating costs in some areas. The impact of these on overall feeds operations, however, is minimal.

On the other hand, the El Niño has not affected the Company's poultry and livestock performance as majority of the animal houses, particularly of poultry, are climate-controlled, with back-up generators in case of power failure. Only less than 20% of farms had to bring in water from outside due to reduced water supply from wells and springs.

(ii) We noticed that your recent ads have utilized the famous Aldub team. Was the investment worth it? Did they really improve the sales of your products?

The President answered that yes, the investment was worth it. The Company is already seeing an improvement in the sales of its Magnolia Best of the Philippines ice cream based on latest volume trends even though the Aldub ad for Magnolia ice cream was only released in the latter part of March 2016.

The choice of endorsers helped in creating awareness for the product as the Company was able to tap the solid base of Aldub followers in promoting the brand. News about the brand spread through word-of-mouth. As a result, Magnolia Best of the Philippines ice cream's Mango Salted Caramel became the number one flavor in major supermarket chains like Robinson's, SM Hypermart, Rustan's and other supermarket chains.

The Company has yet to see the impact on hotdogs as the launch of the ad coincided with the transitioning of its sales team to a new system. The Company hopes to see the results in the coming weeks when the new set-up has settled.
